

SYDNEY WATER: CASE STUDY

THE PROBLEM: Sydney Water was seeking to address low engagement and poor internal knowledge transfer by conducting a mentoring pilot program with an initial batch of 50 employees.

THE MENTORLOOP SOLUTION: Sydney Water was able to recruit and match these 50 employees in 4 days; and the company was able to quickly track and survey participants for program results.

THE OUTCOME: Sydney Water has since scaled the mentoring program across their entire organisation (2600+ employees), improving both employee engagement and internal knowledge transfer.

WHAT WE CAN LEARN FROM SYDNEY WATER:

1. Run a mentoring pilot
with no admin burden.

2. See the results
of effective mentoring.

3. Effortlessly scale the program
To transform your organisation.